Dear Parents/Guardians:

On behalf of myself, my fellow school administrators, teachers and staff at Abraham Clark High School, I would like to take this opportunity to bring greetings and salutations to your families and loved ones for a most joyous and prosperous holiday season. For this time of the year represents a celebration of community and family alike. It also represents an opportunity for a revived sense of purpose in the upcoming year ahead.

We are extremely proud of our scholars and their accomplishments during the first half of the school year. Our scholars have excelled academically, athletically, and in the arts.

Going forward into 2020, I invite you, as always, to be a driving force for your child's successes. Working together as a team is the key to success for your child. Reports indicate that positive and healthy relationships among school and community benefits student performance immensely. You are an integral part of this school community!

Wishing you well during this Holiday Season!

Educationally yours,

Rashon Mickens
